5 States Await Ram Exhibit

Event To Be Held May 27, 28 At Sacramento

SAN FRANCISCO—Leading sheep breeders of the five great western sheep states, Wyoming, Idaho, Nevada, Oregon, California and Canada are at this time carefully selecting their purebred rams and purebred ewes for shipment to the California ram exhibition to be held at the state fair grounds, Sacramento, Thursday and Friday, May 27th and 28th, 1937, informs F. C. Clarke, president, California Wool Growers Association of Laytonville, Mendocino County.

The largest wool show in the United States, also managed by the California Wool Growers' Association, will take place at the same time and place.

The ram sale and wool show have aided tremendously in bettering our lamb and wool production, Clarke asserts.

The impulse it has given ram breeders to breed better animals, more clearly adapted to meet our western conditions, is truly remarkable. This is shown not only in our old-established breeds but in the new types and breeds to meet present day market demands.

Mrs. Charles Hand of Placerville, has been awarded first prize in the Pacific Gas and Electric Company's El Dorado County "Tales of California" story contest, and her story in dramatized form is to be broadcast on the company's radio program next Sunday night, May 9th. Many excellent stories were submitted in the contest, but Samuel Dickson, National Broadcasting Company writer, who passes upon the stories, chose Mrs. Hand's as being most readily adaptable to radio dramatization. ## "Program" Fails To Develop

Speculation Heard As Legislature Nears End

SACRAMENTO—With the 1937 session of the legislature nearing a close, Republicans in both the Assembly and Senate are awaiting news on the long promised Democratic program at this meeting of the legislature.

Last January, Democrats, under the leadership of William Mosley Jones, first Democratic speaker in more than 40 years, appointed a steering committee and announced they would present a complete program of bills to the legislature.

The steering committee was headed by Assemblyman Henry Meehan, speaker pro tem of the Assembly.

Republicans are now speculating as to whether the following bills will be a part of the Democratic program: A bill by Hawkins, Rosenthal, Clark and others, repealing the state sales tax which supports California's public schools; bills by Reaves, Flint, Yorty, Fulcher, and Turner, legalizing bookmakers; Patterson, severance tax on all natural resources including gold; Richie and others, repeal of the criminal syndicalism law; Andreas, putting the state in the wholesale liquor business; Reaves, repeal of the striped bass law, fought for so strenuously for years by the sportsmen; Hunt, prohibiting the sale of any soft drink containing caffeine; Hunt, prohibiting the sale of coco cola; Hunt, placing a tobacco tax on every smoker in California; Turner, forcing the granting of a second racetrack permit in Los Angeles County; Hunt, putting the Folsom prisoners in competition with union labor in the manufacture of automobile plates for the state; Laughlin, prohibiting door prizes, etc., by theaters and other place of public amusement; Patterson, placing the farmers under the unemployment reserves law; Meehan, establishing a state lottery.

ARRAIGNMENT IN THEFT SATURDAY

Jewel Bramel, charged with burglary in the theft of $30 from Henry Steitz, to which authorities report he has confessed, will be arraigned Saturday in Superior Court.

Bramel was bound over for trial on Thursday afternoon at a preliminary hearing in justice court before Justice of the Peace T. F. Lewis.

District Attorney Henry S. Lyon is preparing a formal information to be filed Saturday morning.

The birth of a daughter, Barbara Ann Ball, to Mr. and Mrs. Theodore R. Ball of Union District, on May 4, was recorded Friday at the courthouse.

HINDENBURG'S DEATH TOLL 32; INQUIRIES BEGUN

Destruction Of Giant Craft Leaves But 2 Zeppelins; Third Is Under Way; 50 To Miss Coronation

By JULIUS FRANSDEN
United Press Staff Correspondent

NAVAL STATION, LAKEHURST, N. J. (UP)—Revised compilations today listed 32 known dead or missing in the flames that destroyed the 800-foot dirigible Hindenburg, pride of the Reich.

United States sailors, trained for dirigible disaster work and stolid white jacketed survivors of the German crew poked among the tangled and seared wreckage for possible additional bodies.

American aviation authorities and German officials meantime converged here to arrange for formal inquiries to seek the explanation of the spark that enveloped the hydrogen-filled airship in flames just as she was landing last night on the completion of her first transatlantic voyage this year.

Ambassador Hans Luther, came from Washington to head the German representation. Dr. Fred Fagg, new head of the Bureau of Air Commerce was on hand for the commerce department, and Admiral Cook, chief of the Bureau of Naval Aviation, flew here from Washington.

As to the "why" of the explosion and fire that brought disaster to Germany's efficiency in airship operation over many years, the experts at the outset seemed as puzzled as did Captain Earnest Lehmann, veteran zeppelin navigator, who escaped from the flames murmuring "I don't understand, I don't understand."

The end of the Hindenburg leaves only two zeppelins.

One is the Los Angeles, property of the United States, long worn out and retired.

The other is the Graf Zeppelin, which Hugo Eckener flew on many spectacular voyages, including a trip around the world, which convinced millions of the safety and feasibility of lighter than air craft.

However, the zeppelin works at Friedrichshafen has one zeppelin, the LZ-130, in process of construction and another, the LZ-131, is being blue-printed. The LZ-130 is expected to start her trial flights about next September.

MISS CORONATION
NEW YORK (UP)—More than 50 persons, including 10 who were going to London for the coronation of George VI, had booked passage for the return flight of the dirigible Hindenburg today.

"Now let's have a happy picture," said a photographer.

"We are always happy," said Mrs. Simpson. She turned to the Duke as if for confirmation as he said:

"Of course! Isn't that evident?"

$35,000 Loss As Flames Level Dining Room At Camp Richardson

District Attorney Opens Investigation As Rumor Of Incendiarism In Blaze Is Reported

The dining room at Camp Richardson, which was saved from flames which destroyed the hotel, store and postoffice at the resort on November 13, last, was swept away early Friday morning by a fire of unknown origin.

Eight people, sleeping in the building, escaped in their night clothing. The entire structure and its equipment, valued at approximately $35,000, was destroyed.

This is according to a report to The Republican by A. L. Richardson, Sr., owner of the resort.

Rumors of possible incendiarism in connection with the fire, led District Attorney Henry S. Lyon to leave shortly after noon for Lake Tahoe to begin an investigation. George E. Faugstad, county agent for an insurance concern with which Mr. Richardson carries some policies, left early Friday on a similar mission.

According to Mr. Richardson, he was in the building at midnight Thursday night and there was no fire in the building.

The camp was awakened about 3 o'clock Friday morning by the barking of the Richardson's pet bull-dog and the eight persons quartered in the (Turn to Page 3)

Frog Jubilee May 15-16

Angels Camp Sets Date For Ninth Annual Event

ANGELS CAMP—The clocks not only have gone on a "sit-down" strike, but have turned back more than 60 years in preparation for the town's ninth annual Jumping Frog Jubilee, set for Saturday and Sunday, May 15-16, in commemoration of Mark Twain's famous story, "The Jumping Frog of Calaveras." The whole town has been transformed into a replica of the early days, with swarthy miners in red shirts and flowing beards, carrying old-fashioned six-guns. The feminine population has donned pantaloons and hoop-skirts, together with old-fashioned bustles.

Pedigreed frogs from all parts of the nation are beginning to arrive in bucket, fur-lined bath tubs, bird cages and every conceivable contraption, to participate in the world's championship contest held in connection with the most unique celebration in the world.

An additional feature of this year's celebration will be a whole afternoon devoted to horse racing, stage coach races and pony express races on Saturday, May 15, in the town's reconstructed race track, which has been dormant for more than 50 years. The (Turn to Page 3)

Senate Ponders Pension Act

Hornblower Bill Passed Assembly On Thursday

SACRAMENTO (UP)—A liberalized old age pension measure which sailed through the Assembly without opposition, moved to the Senate today as the legislature began a march through important bills previously held back pending final action on the 1937-39 budget.

Six hours after the Lower House sustained Governor Frank P. Merriam's alterations in the $438,000,000 budget bill, thereby enacting the document and clearing the way for action on appropriation measures, the members voted, 78 to 0, to pass the Hornblower pension proposal.

Introduced by Assemblyman William Hornblower, R., San Francisco, and 45 other members as AB1—the first bill to appear in the records when the legislature convened last January—the measure would liberalize the present pension act by guaranteeing $35 a month to eligible recipients and permitting a $15 side income without deduction.

In addition, the recipient could retain ownership of his home if it was not assessed beyond $3,000. The allowable $15 side income might cover the value of foodstuffs produced by the applicant, income, rent or gifts.

False Alarm On Friday

"War Admiral" Derby Choice

Son Of Man O'War Is Quoted At 8 To 5

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent
LOUISVILLE, Ky. (UP)—Louisville was flooded again today—with the golden, negotiable dollars of those who like War Admiral in the 63rd running of the Kentucky Derby.

The son of Man O'War—Ol' Big Red himself—stood at 8 to 5 in the betting marts and was a cinch to be hammered down to even money by post time tomorrow afternoon.

War Admiral had no reason to feel proud over his position as favorite, however, because it was given to him in the form of a left handed compliment. He is getting the play because of his rivals' weakness.

Boiled down, the situation strictly is this: On three year old performance War Admiral is a shoe-in; on two year old performance there are half a dozen or more colts fully capable of winning. The question is: Can they carry the load for a mile and a quarter with stake weights on their backs?

Sixteen or seventeen will go to the post, and among those absent will be Col. Bradley's Brooklyn, a hot Winter Book baby, and Milky Way's case ace. They were definitely scratched yesterday, and more will come today.

LIGHT SHOWERS

SAN FRANCISCO (UP)—A depression moving northward along the coast edged close to shore today and brought light showers from San Francisco north to Marshfield, Oregon, the United States Weather Bureau reported.

PARADE OF SPORTS

By HENRY McLEMORE
(United Press Staff Writer)

COLUMBIA, Mo. (UP)—I heard a speech at the Missouri School of Journalism here. Aside from subject matter and delivery and a certain inability on the part of the speaker to remember what he had planned to say, it was indeed a splendid speech.

At the conclusion of the address I beamed my approval and was almost tempted to clap. However, I was the speaker and some inborn sensitiveness told me that this was not the thing to do. Queer how many people in the audience had that same inner feeling.

Now that the speech is over, I realize that I could have improved upon it. In a burst of modesty I opened my speech by saying that I really didn't know what I was going to say. To my intense surprise, when they stopped me 30 minutes late, I was still on the same subject. I had failed to mention sports or journalism. By way of complimenting me on my talk, Dean Frank L. Martin told me that they never had had a speaker at the school of journalism who drank so much water. I take a quiet, aquatic pride in this distinction.

If I had the speech to do over again I would come right out and speak about sports in the first five minutes. After all, the subject of my address was "roving the nation for sports." I would like to have told those young journalists, particularly those who planned to follow sports, some of the perils of the profession. Take the danger of being crushed to death in press boxes by reason of crowds who are in no way connected with the press, for example. I am convinced that big industrial companies hold their annual conventions in press boxes. Certainly I have covered many events with shoe and ice box salesmen who resented by being in there.

And there is the matter of sports luncheons, specially those given by promoters for wrestlers and fighters. All catering for those occasions must be handled by one man, who obviously took up the job after serving an apprenticeship under some penitentiary chef. The food is always cold, heavy and indigestible. But you eat it, because across from you is Chief Little Wolf or his like, just waiting for you to be free so he can demonstrate his new and latest "death grip" on you.

Another thing I should have warned the young journalists about is the difficulty of picking winners. Not everyone can be as fortunate as I. I suppose I was just born to be a picker of winners. Most men have to acquire the art. And little thanks I get for the trouble. Why, two years ago when I actually picked a winner, do you think anyone wrote and congratulated me? No. The only letter I got was from my aunt down in Georgia, telling me the turnip crop was coming along fine, was there any market for home-made pumpkin pies in New York, and Uncle Sheck had just stopped by to say that he had heard I picked a winner and they were all worried about my health.

Yessir, I could have told those boys and girls about many pitfalls if I had not been so sincere and convinced even myself that I was at a loss for words. Next stop Louisville, and don't forget that on Saturday I will announce the name of a horse who may or may not win the Kentucky Derby.

FIRST CHERRIES
BRING $5.75
IN CHICAGO

CHICAGO—The California deciduous fruit market was officially opened here today when the first shipment of cherries received this season was sold to the highest bidders at the Fruit Auction Sales Company Terminal by Charles W. Smith, agent of the Pacific Fruit Exchange, the shipper.

The shipment, which came by express, comprised two boxes of "Chapmans" one each from Lodi and Vacaville, that sold for $5.75 and $6, respectively—and two boxes of "Knights Early" from Sacramento that brought $4.25 per box.

RHODODENDRONS
BLOOMING IN MENDOCINO

The beautiful rhododendrons are blooming now, luring thousands of motorists to the Mendocino coast where they grow so abundantly. In formation booths and guides will be stationed in each of the towns along the coast to direct motorists to the finest displays during the first part of May, according to the outing department of the National Automobile Club.

Although last winter's extreme cold has affected the usual beauty and profusion of the rhododendrons, there are thousands of lovely trees and they present a very impressive scene. In addition, there are countless other varieties of wildflowers to be enjoyed along the coast.

The best and most direct route to the displays is via U. S. 101 to the Mount House, thence via the McDonald to-the-sea highway, joining the coast just south of Albion, thence to Fort Bragg. This road is paved and oiled macadam all the way.

An alternate and very scenic route is via the shoreline highway. There is a choice of routes to Jenner, then proceed northerly along the coast. The first few miles north of Jenner are rather winding, require conservative driving. All of the road has been dust-coated and, with the exception of a few short stretches damaged by winter storms, affords good driving conditions.

Mrs. Albert Martin was a caller from Riverton on Friday.

Dates of the convention of agricultural commissioners at Eureka will probably be June 7-9.

The California Debris Commission will hold a public hearing at 11:00 A. M., May 7, 1937, Room 208 Post Office Bldg., Sacramento, California, to receive protests against granting the application of Oakleigh Thorne to mine by hydraulic process the Myers Placer Mine, located near Placerville, California, draining into Johnson Creek, thence South Fork American River, and to store tailings behind a debris barrier about 1/2 mile below the mine.

track is a half-mile course and is situated just outside the city limits. It was constructed more than 60 years ago.

One of the interesting side-lights of the frog contest will be a grudge match of frogs owned by Bob Burns, home-spun movie comedian, and Bing Crosby, radio crooner. Burns recently wagered a tidy sum with Crosby that a frog from the mud flats of Van Buren, Arkansas, could out-jump any sunskit hopper raised in the shadows of movieland's bright lights. The argument will be settled at Angeles Camp on Sunday, May 16.

Taylor Witnesses All Recalled

The district attorney's office also announced that all witnesses in the original investigation of the shooting of Taylor, noted film director, which rocked the Hollywood movie colony 15 years ago, would be called in and re-questioned.

Mr. Richardson estimated the loss in this fire at $35,000 and said the loss in the fire last November did damage amounting to $61,000.

He said he was communicating with county authorities concerning the circumstance that twice within a few months there have been serious fires at the resort and there has been found no satisfactory explanation as to their origin.
